AT A GLANCE

CAMUFFO C34 Flybridge

Cantiere Navale Camuffo, the world's oldest universally recognized shipyard, has spanned six centuries of history. For 18 generations, the Camuffo family has renewed the values of uniqueness and exclusivity through their vessels, earning them the epithet of "Stradivarius of the Sea."

This Camuffo C34 Flybridge is constructed from high-density mahogany plywood (known as super-reinforced laminated wood). The interiors are bright and wood dominates throughout. The finishes are refined and the vessel is in excellent taste. Great maneuverability and a superior quality hull guarantee excellent stability even in heavy seas.

In 2025, extensive restoration work was performed on the wood structures and waterproofing with epoxy resin; repainting was completed, and the engines were replaced with all degraded components revised. Please read the notes for a complete list of works.
